“Demands for skin tightening and cellulite reduction solutions are growing by the day. Until now, few systems enabled us to offer patients a high standard treatment. Venus Concept, a leading company in the RF field, brings us the Freeze—a simple, comfortable and reliable new system, based on the (MP)² technology. This technology combines multi-polar Radio-Frequency and Pulsed Magnetic Field, and generates heat that penetrates deep into the dermis and hypodermis. The result is the activation of fibroblasts, destruction of fat cell membrane and increased angiogenesis.

Compared to traditional RF machines, the Freeze treatment is not painful at all and it is easy to control the temperature using an infra-red thermometer.

As early as the first session, skin looks tightened due to the immediate shrinkage of collagen fibers. Very good clinical outcomes will become gradually visible after several treatments, with one week interval between sessions.

The freeze has a large selection of applications for the face and body. I like to offer my patients treatments for the neck area using the DiamondPolar hand-piece, but the entire face may also be treated.

Cellulite is substantially improved by using the OctiPolar hand-piece and after a few months patients feel better about themselves.

These new treatments may also be combined with other techniques such as liposuction or laser assisted lipolysis.”

“After 8 months of use, I really get marvelous results for tightening neck’s skin and décolleté. Patients are very happy of outcomes without performing surgery. We can observe a real rejuvenation progressively over 6 months, due to the fibroblasts stimulation secondary to freeze treatments.

4 sessions for treating face and neck are enough followed by maintenance therapy every 6 months.

Treatment of cellulite is always in evaluation but some very good results are reported by patients and physicians. It is reasonable to perform 6 sessions and to wait for 6 months before evaluation.”

“A risk free, state of the art equipment that uniquely combining magnetic pulse therapy and multi polar RF.

Although I have been using for several years other radiofrequency systems, today I enjoy a safe and simple machine and my patients of all skin types experience pleasurable and painless treatments with immediate clinical results. It is the only machine that delivers superior results within 6-8 weeks.

I strongly believe that Freeze represents a unique all-in one system. My decision for the purchase of a second system was quick and without hesitations.”

“Over the last five years I have become an enthusiastic promotor of non-invasive treatments with radiofrequency and a very keen observer of textural and tension changes of the skin, both subtle and noticeable during the process to revert the signs of skin ageing.

VENUS FREEZE technology (MP)² is undoubtedly a powerful tool to achieve marked changes with no waiting time (like in other radiofrequencies), with no need of cancelling your daily routine, without being forced to take special care during the summer season, and in a fast and progressive manner in each treatment session, its handpieces , facial and corporal, adapt simply and comfortably to patients’ needs, meeting all their expectations even in conflicting areas such as the neck, chest, axillae and arms.

With (MP)² technology we have reached temperatures of over 40°C in a few minutes, which can be easily maintained over the entire treatment session, with no adverse effects.

Both patients and operators adopt this technology in no time as the remarkable changes lead to demand more treatments in more areas of the body.”

“As someone who is experienced with a large variety of medi-aesthetic technologies for skin-tightening and cellulite reduction treatments, I can confidently recommend the (MP)² technology embedded in the Venus Freeze system for both physicians and patients.

The Freeze is able to generate a uniform heat pattern, greatly contributing to patients’ comfort and enabling pain-free treatments. The homogenous heating increases safety and eliminates painful heat-spikes, whilst enabling us to reach the high temperatures required for good clinical results.

The Pulsed Magnetic Fields (PMF) of the (MP)² utilize a non-thermal mechanism that has been widely proved in different medical applications to initiate Angiogenesis (neo vascularity), cause proliferation of fibroblasts, and to synthesize new collagen. However, the promising long term effects of the PMF in the aesthetic industry require additional studies

My patients find the machine to be very relaxing and warm. They are happy with the results, especially cellulite reduction and skin tightening.

I have also been using the machine as a post operative treatment of liposuction. It has helped speed up healing time and deep bruising by increasing circulation in the area and has also helped to tighten the skin.”
